

William Beecher <beecher@gmail.com>

interest in selling your e-mail address?

10 messages

Matt Beecher <mbeecher@mba2005.hbs.edu>

Tue, Jun 28, 2005 at 1:47 PM

Reply-To: mbeecher@mba2005.hbs.edu

To: beecher@gmail.com

Hi,

You have the e-mail address beecher@gmail.com would be interested in selling it?

I'd be interested in buying.

let me know,

Matt Beecher

mbeecher@mba2005.hbs.edu

William Beecher <beecher@gmail.com>

Tue, Jun 28, 2005 at 8:55 PM

Reply-To: William Beecher <beecher@gmail.com>

To: mbeecher@mba2005.hbs.edu

Thanks for writing. I wondered whether this would become an issue when I got beecher@gmail.com.

I am interested in the six-figure range [US$]. Let me know.

-William Beecher

[Quoted text hidden]

Matt Beecher <mbeecher@mba2005.hbs.edu>

Tue, Jun 28, 2005 at 10:32 PM

Reply-To: mbeecher@mba2005.hbs.edu

To: William Beecher <beecher@gmail.com>

Hmmmmm.

Well, I guess finders keepers, losers weepers.

I'd only be interested in paying six figures if we count four to five figures to the right of the decimal. :)

Thanks for the note back....soak up the wonder of a great address.

~mb

[Quoted text hidden]

William Beecher <beecher@gmail.com>

Tue, Jun 28, 2005 at 11:26 PM

Reply-To: William Beecher <beecher@gmail.com>

To: mbeecher@mba2005.hbs.edu

Bcc: friendsofrobertdowneyjr@lists.stanford.edu

Once the @stanford.edu email address ran out, the @gmail.com was huge.

Gmail - interest in selling your e-mail address?

Like prime domain names anytime after the late 80's, @gmail.com email addresses are only going to get more expensive.

I'm thinking about due diligence and best practices for the future.

Let's talk again in a few years.

-Will

[Quoted text hidden]
